

Multitude of Voyces Donations Policy

The charity depends on the generosity of private individuals to support its charitable aims and is grateful for donations of any size.

This Policy relates only to donations made by private individuals to the charity, donating their own money and without consequent obligation by the charity to that individual.

All prices appear in pounds sterling (£). Donations are not eligible for Giftaid.

Donations to the charity are non-returnable and are independent of any other financial obligations of the donor to the charity or of the charity to that donor.

Donations may be made directly to the charity via the website (Paypal button) or via any of the alternative methods of payment. Donors may be subject to banking or currency exchange fees: these will not be reimbursed by the charity.

Donors may request invoices and receipts for their own records.

Donors will only be named by the charity with their express permission, for example within fundraising materials/marketing materials/media and social media articles/reports.

Donations will be clearly registered using Xero and details will be available in full to the charity's directors, accountant and, anonymised, in summary to the relevant statutory bodies.

Donors may be subject to money-laundering checks if appropriate and strictly necessary.
